DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Blinn et al.'373 (Blinn). Blinn discloses a method and system of on-line shopping (figures 1-16) comprising a commerce provider server 100 connected to a network (via 108), a first terminal 102 connected to the network (via 110 and 108) and a second terminal 106, provided in the store and connected to the network (via 104, 108), the second terminal capable of transmitting a client number/shopper identifier to the commerce provider as well as selected/ordered goods information to and from the commerce provider and ultimately back to the first terminal (via order table, as seen in figure 9). Further, Blinn discloses the use of stored memory (via 130) as well as inventory control 124, order processing 126 and page generation/printing 120.

In reference to the applicant's arguments is the following: Firstly, the attorney for the applicant states that the Blinn reference does not disclose a second computer. The examiner disagrees. In figure 3, there is displayed at least three computer systems. These are reference numerals 110, 110' and the main merchant system 104. The applicant then states that there is no in store system. Again the examiner disagrees. Again in figure 1, the item of reference numeral 104 is labeled as a "merchant system". This system is either inherently or obviously "in store" and thus the new rejection under 35 USC 103.
